

Nursing Executive Center webconference schedule

January – December 2021

The Nursing Executive Center is hosting the following webconferences across 2021. As always, all webconferences listed below will be available to stream on-demand within two days of the broadcast date. The * indicates that you can earn 1 CE credit by attending this entire webconference. Please have your RN license number ready when you complete the survey at the end of the session.

Webconference	Date
Stay Up to Date Learn about the latest issues facing the health care industry in this weekly discussion series. Our experts will make sense of the problems, so you can focus on the solutions.	Every Thursday 3-4pm ET
How West Kendall Baptist used meaningful recognition to create a culture of nursing excellence Learn how one organization leveraged meaningful recognition through the DAISY Award program to improve nurse engagement and patient outcomes.	Tuesday, January 19 1-2pm ET
Care transformation state of the union Learn strategies to improve your Covid-19 response and succeed in your broader population health strategy.	Tuesday, February 9 1-2pm ET
Healthcare Equality Index: A roadmap for LGBTQ inclusion Learn from leaders at The Human Rights Campaign Foundation and UCSF Health about how to advance LGBTQ equity and inclusion in health care.	Wednesday, March 24 1-2pm ET
Celebrate Nurses Week 2021: How to sustain nursing innovation beyond the pandemic Learn about practice innovations achieved across the pandemic, and guidance on how to sustain innovations in the long term with Advisory Board's CNO, Carol Boston-Fleischhauer as we celebrate nurses week 2021.	Thursday, May 6 4-4:45pm ET
A retrospective on flexible staffing: lessons learned from Covid-19 Learn from a panel of NY CNOs about how they were able to embrace flexible staffing during Covid – and how they'll sustain these efforts moving forward.	Wednesday, May 26 1-2pm ET
Why 'cultural competence' is misguided – and what to do instead* Learn four steps organizations can take to make the shift from cultural competence to cultural humility.	Wednesday, June 16 3-4pm ET
Four options to reinvent the inpatient nurse float pool* Learn how to leverage your float pool to solve emerging staffing challenges across the care continuum.	Wednesday, July 14 1-2pm ET
How trauma-informed care can help your patients (and your staff) Learn how Asante Three Rivers Medical Center uniquely enhanced patient care and the well-being of employees through the use of trauma-informed care.	Wednesday, August 11 1-2pm ET
Retain experienced nurses by meeting their workforce needs Learn different strategies to keep your experienced nurses at the bedside, including adjusted shifts and blended roles.	Wednesday, September 15 1-1:30pm ET
How to get your staff talking about race and bias – and build a more open, diverse organization Learn how Anne Arundel Medical Center uses their Coming to the Table series to create a more diverse and inclusive culture through open, candid conversations.	Wednesday, October 6 1-2pm ET

On-demand webconferences

The Nursing Executive Center records all webconferences so members can view them on demand at their convenience. Some of our most recent webconferences now available on demand are shown below.

Webconference

Strengthening your team's resilience: Identifying symptoms of emotional distress in staff

Join us for a two-part series on strengthening staff resilience. In this webinar, we'll discuss two ways to get a pulse check on staff wellbeing as well as how to make checking in on emotional wellbeing part of a daily routine.

Strengthening your team's resilience: Addressing emotional distress through effective communication

Join us for part two of our webconference series on strengthening staff resilience. In this webinar, we'll discuss three tactical best practices for nurse leaders to engage in conversations about emotional distress with their staff in one-on-one and group settings.

How Cleveland Clinic prepares at-risk youth for careers in health care

In this webconference, Kelly Hancock, CNO of Cleveland Clinic, will discuss how Cleveland Clinic created a program to identify at-risk high school juniors and prepare them for a career in health care.

Redesigning novice nurse support amidst Covid-19

In this webinar, we examine the key factors to consider when reviewing the efficacy of your current onboarding and orientation strategies for new graduates in light of the Covid-19 pandemic.

Back to basics: Engaging teams in a new normal

In this webinar, our experts will discuss how nursing directors and managers can better engage their staff by conducting effective stay interviews and capitalizing on often-missed opportunities.

How to increase patient capacity by shifting care to patients' homes

The Covid-19 pandemic dramatically changed traditional discharge patterns, resulting in new inpatient throughput bottlenecks. In this webinar, we'll explore how to leverage home-based care to overcome those barriers and increase acute capacity.

Leading through crisis

This presentation will explore the most pervasive stressors that undermine frontline nurse resilience and cause burnout in post-acute settings and equip leaders and frontline nurses to overcome them.

Royal Melbourne Hospital's 6-step plan to confront point-of-care violence

Learn how leaders at Royal Melbourne Hospital (RMH) proactively addressed point-of-care violence using an executive-led strategy to support and empower staff to be advocates for their own safety. This session will detail six action steps RMH leaders took and provide tips for getting started.

How BJC HealthCare cut patient harms events by 75%

In this session, learn how BJC Health Care reduced patient harms events by 75%. BJC Health Care leaders will discuss which factors they targeted through their patient safety program initiative and the challenges they experienced along the way.

The future of the clinical workforce

In this webinar, our experts will discuss how the workforce has changed, and how organizations can use this time to advance much needed changes that clinicians have historically resisted.
